TOGETHER IS THE GOOD PART

Our little kitchen adventure

A simple plan for a happy afternoon. Choose one small activity and leave room for the unexpected.

Today’s date and our names

Today we choose…

- [ ] Decorate fully baked, cooled cookies
- [ ] Arrange a fruit plate with an adult
- [ ] Make a recipe-memory card or gift note

The little helper’s job

The grown-up’s job

Before we start

Wash hands. Check allergies. Read the recipe together. Adults handle heat, sharp tools, and raw ingredients. Choose serving sizes for the child’s abilities.

AN INTERVIEW AT THE KITCHEN TABLE

Tell me a little story

Take turns. Write, draw, or let a grown-up record your exact words. It is fine to skip a question.

Grandma: What did you love to eat when you were little?

Grandchild: What would you invent for our kitchen?

Grandma: Who taught you something useful?

Grandchild: What is the funniest name for our treat?

TODAY IN OUR KITCHEN

A memory, made

The counters can be cleaned. The little details can stay here.

Draw us, our treat, or your favorite part.

The funniest thing that happened

Something I learned

Next time, let’s…

A GIFT FROM OUR KITCHEN

A little kindness to share

Ask whether a food gift is welcome. A thoughtful note is always a lovely beginning.

This is for…

We thought of you because…

The grown-up checks

- [ ] Ingredients and allergens are listed.
- [ ] Storage and preparation date are included.
- [ ] The gift can travel and arrive safely.

Our signatures, a doodle, or a little heart